

Stone Soup Holiday Camp @ Christmas 2008

Missional:

The most unreached people group in American churches is families who have a child or young adult with special needs. If you already have a ministry of any kind to those with special needs you are ready to experience an explosive response from your community- both from families and the community at large.

Space and Time:

The Holiday Camp @ Christmas 2008 requires the use of a gym or activity center along with support space. The well designed materials are complete to enable you to decide and run a Camp within a four week time frame.

Reaching:

The Stone Soup Holiday Camp @ Christmas 2008 is a proven approach to allow your church to impact the entire community. Few if any others are offering such a unique and appreciated effort to our “friends of all abilities.”

Effective:

Stone Soup’s approach is highly effective and reaches large numbers of families and draws volunteers of all ages for a fun day of Christmas time outreach on your campus. The promotional package includes video, posters, and press releases for immediate use.

Cost:

Stone Soup – Friends of All Abilities offers downloadable program materials at no charge.

Cost for all materials needed to promote and conduct Holiday Camp @ Christmas – about $25 per camper. Sponsor-A-Camper approach is efficient to secure “additional” funds for this heart-warming Christmas gift to your community. Church and community based sponsors will be easily supportive.

About Stone Soup – Friends of All Abilities

Stone Soup – Friends of All Abilities is a Nashville, TN based outreach effort for use by local churches reaching out to families of children and young adults with special needs.

Established in 2003, Stone Soup held the Stone Soup Festival in 2005 at the Nashville Convention Center at the invitation of the Southern Baptist Convention Annual Meeting’s Crossover Event. This Holiday Camp @ Christmas 2008 is a gift to help local churches expand their ministry during this Christmas season. Stone Soup offers on-going support for monthly and weekly ministry.
